

AN EXCITING NEW MOVEMENT IS TAKING ART TO THE STREETS—LITERALLY!

We invite you to join us for a luncheon presentation on Finding Time: Columbus Public Art 2012, on Thursday, May 31, from noon-1:30 p.m., at The Columbus Foundation's Davis Hall.

This event will offer insights from a panel of experts who will share how this visionary project celebrates art downtown.

Featuring Malcolm Cochran, program director and curator for Finding Time: Columbus Public Art 2012, who has created large-scale objects, installations, and public art since the late 1970s. He is best known in Columbus for Field of Corn (with Osage Oranges), 1994, in Dublin, Ohio.

SPEAKER LINEUP

Shelly Willis, Curator, Finding Time: Columbus Public Art 2012

Ms. Willis directs the City and County of Sacramento's Art in Public Places Program. The program is currently overseeing the development of the Sacramento International Airport public art program.

Cleve Ricksecker, Executive Director, Capital Crossroads and Discovery

Mr. Ricksecker has worked with Downtown Columbus property owners to create and operate special improvement districts (SIDs) for 13 years. Currently he is executive director of two SIDs—Capital Crossroads and Discovery—which are responsible for managing the public realm and promoting downtown.

For more information about the speakers, visit <http://columbusfoundation.org/giving/current-donors/your-philanthropy/>

Reserve your seat now! RSVP to Donna Jordan at events@columbusfoundation.org by May 28. We look forward to seeing you at the Foundation!